

Days of Anxiety Return for Parents.

Will Baby Get Through the Summer in Safety?

Many Little Lives Depend on Proper Diet.

Cholera Infantum is Most to be Dreaded.

Lactated Food the Best Preventive Known.

Approaching summer casts its shadow on many a mother's heart.

Every summer safely passed is a golden milestone in baby's life.

But think of the countless little lives that in June, July and August are to swell the list of infant deaths under five years.

How many mothers would like to hide her precious baby in her bosom till the danger is passed. But she must know that only intelligent, thoughtful care can keep the baby well.

High temperature with improper feeding now brings dread cholera infantum, diarrhoea and convulsions.

With the use of proper food, and there is nothing so absolutely good as lactated food, these dangers may be avoided.

Reports from homes all over the country, and especially from the large institutions where the great number of infants gives ample data for accurate judgment, show that babies thrive best upon lactated food.

The supreme importance of pure, nutritious nourishment, and the long study by many of the most prominent physicians in the country of infant disorders from mistakes in diet, led to the preparation of lactated food. Next to pure mother's milk, it is the most nourishing, strengthening, readily digested, and most palatable food that can be given a baby.

It more closely resembles mother's milk than any other food known. Its basis is sugar of milk, which is the basis of mother's milk. With this is combined the nutritive elements of wheat, barley and oats in such proportion as best meets the requirements of the rapidly growing child.

Baby must eat well to keep up strength and resist disease.

When teething is added to the fretfulness due to hot weather many babies refuse all other nourishment except lactated food, which they take with a decided relish.

In the preparation of lactated food not only has absolute purity and freedom from possibility of contagion, as well as a remarkable nourishing power been secured, but also a pleasant taste that induces babies, especially when being weaned, to take food when nothing else will tempt them.

It is when the strength is not kept up and the child is allowed to grow nervous, thin and fretful that a slight increase in heat brings on the exhausting diarrhoea or fatal cholera infantum. No household where there are children should be a day without lactated food, especially in June and July.

With lactated food and a reasonable care in keeping the baby's dishes carefully scalded, parents may watch baby with delight as it grows every day stronger and healthier.

Summer after summer testifies to the power of lactated food to make plump, rosy cheeks and sturdy little legs, and arms and bodies, and days full of noise and glee and nights of sound refreshing sleep.

The prettiest babies are the healthy, chubby, rosy ones. Lactated food gives babies solid flesh and bones and saves their lives when threatened with wasting diseases. It is to be had at any drug store, and is so inexpensive that no mother need be without it.

ANOTHER MINE FIRE.

Timber Ignited in the Mahanoy City Colliery.

Special to the HERALD.

MAHANOY CITY, June 21.—As the men on the day shift at Hills, otherwise known as Mahanoy City colliery, were entering the mine at 7 o'clock this morning they became aware of the presence of fire.

The indications came through the atmosphere in the shape of smoke. A warning was promptly sent to Superintendent Skeath, who lost no time in running a line of hose to the blaze, which proved to be in timbering not far from the gangway.

The smoke rolled out in clouds and prevented the men getting near enough to the flames with the hose to make the fight effective. This continued for several hours without any perceptible gain for the firemen.

At 10:30 four men were half suffocated by the steam and smoke and were taken from the mines in an insensible condition. Their names are William Paul, Robert Davis, Amos Walters and Ralph Williams. They were taken home and are now much improved.

At three o'clock this afternoon the fire was declared extinguished.
